WAR SUMMARY

The deadlock in the negotiations between Austria and Italy has been broken, and hopes of a settlement of the question at issue without resort to arms have been revived in Rome. It is not known by persons other than those concerned with the question, has taken place to relieve the apparently hopeless situation, but Rome assumes that either Austria or Italy has made some concession. Italy has been represented previously as making no concession, as well as the Austrians in the League, whereas Austria was believed to be willing to yield only a comparatively small part of this territory.

A strong Turkish army is preparing to offer resistance to the land forces with which the allies expect to attack the Dardanelles fortifications from the rear. An Athens dispatch states that the British and French troops have landed in the Gallipoli peninsula along the coast of the Gulf of Saros. It is the British, according to unofficial advice yesterday, that 20,000 British and French troops have landed. Turkish communications along the coast are being bombarded by warships of the allies.

The determination of the German offensive, and the high cost to the allies of any advance, are shown again in the fighting near Ypres, as when the Turks took Neuve Chapelle last month. Since the capture of Hill 60 by the British, the Germans have

LITTLE GORDIE SURELY EXPECTS EARLY ELECTION

Because He and Dan Gallagher
Are Beginning to Talk Hydro to Farmers.

LITTLE INTEREST

Only About 25 People Out to Hear
Hydro Radial Made Political Football.

Last night Dan Gallagher, ex-covey of Barton, and Gordon Wilson, of Dundas, called a meeting of the latter's adherents to hear Hydro power and Hydro radial made political football. The speaker called attention to how the Hydro was first introduced here. Had I done so, my successors in my store, instead of paying $145 per month, would be paying $215. ing that politics did not enter into the question.
To show that Hydro power was a great deal cheaper than Cataract, he produced a contract of 1910. By it he got a rate in his Dundas store of 15 cents per kilowatt hour. The Cataract Company had written to him saying that he was not paying enough. They wanted him to sign another contract. Had I done so, my successors in my store, instead of paying $145 per month, would be paying $215. The speaker called attention to how the Hydro was first introduced here. Had I done so, my successors in my store, instead of paying $145 per month, would be paying $215.

He claimed that all ordinary work on a farm could be done by five horse-power individual outfit. Going into the question of power to the farmer and how to get it, he said that distributing lines were run across the country to the farmer's gate, that he was supplied with a motor and 120 feet of wire. The farmer does the rest—pays for his own motor. The cost depends a great deal on the number of consumers per mile. There is a $15 rate in Hamilton, and that would be increased to $25 in the township. You can use one horse-power for anything.

"Taking five contracts a mile and seven horse-power a mile, sold on the flat rate, it would cost the user of one horse-power $14.50; the user of two horse-power $29.00; the user of three horse-power $43.50; PLAYERS OF THE MASON'S OF THE CITY

Fred Wilson, Hailing From Washington Received Sentence of Six Months.

OWNERS FINED

Responsible for What Garage Keepers Do With Cars When in Their Possession.

In police court this morning Fred Wilson, who claimed to come from Washington, D. C., and who had been known to various well-known citizens on the strength of belonging to the Masons in Washington, received a sentence of six months for failing to show that he was not the owner of the car which he had taken to the garage. It was learned that Wilson did not belong to any of the Masonic bodies in Washington.

"He threatened to tell me and said he was going to sell my house," said Francis Marcell, from Italy, pointing out the car which he had taken to the garage. The charge was not support, but the wife did not produce any evidence to show that her husband had not been trying to support her to the best of his ability. The magistrate ordered the wife to pay the car to the garage, and the wife was fined $100 for failing to show that she was not the owner of the car.

Another case of domestic trouble was before the court when Mrs. Mary Brown accused Louis Proulx, her husband, of assault. There was no evidence to show that there had been an assault and the couple seemed to be getting along all right. The magistrate allowed the defendant to go.

In the case of George Albert, charged with stealing a car, the magistrate ordered the car to be returned to the owner. The owner was a man who had been in the city for some time. The magistrate ordered the car to be returned to the owner, and the owner was fined $100 for failing to show that he was not the owner of the car.
